

I would not like to see the FCC lessen any restrictions that the state of Indiana has imposed. I still get a few calls a week rather than several a day. When I tell them I'm on the no call list then they hang up on me. I have enjoyed my time at home much more since this law has been put in place. If they do insist on letting these people bother us at home then they should make their calls available on caller ID so I don't have to answer them. The Sunday calls are really bad! I'm not sure I understand the part of "We don't want to be bothered at home" means to the people of America. People should have a choice. If they want calls at home then don't ask to be put on the no-call list. If we are on the list then please don't call us!
